Staff of Gandalf™ the Grey

The staff of Gandalf the Grey is a symbol of his status as an 'Istari', or Wizard. It was once owned by Radagast the Brown, crafted from an upturned, twisted sapling once crowned with twig and root-like protrusions, but now all broken and worn down. As well as being Gandalf's trusted walking stick and a fighting weapon when in need, it holds a deep magical power. Radagast's rune mark is carved into the side and the crown features a grooved shape that once held Radagast's blue crystal, now serving as a place for Gandalf to store his pipe. Pushed into the side of the staff is a nail spike which Gandalf uses as a tobacco tamper, and once used to scratch a rune into the door of Bilbo Baggins home in Hobbiton.

THE HOBBIT

Illuminated Staff of the Wizard Gandalf™

This special edition of the Staff of the Wizard Gandalf™ the Grey features an illuminated crown that glows just like the one wielded by Sir Ian McKellen in the motion picture The Hobbit: The Desolation of Smaug™. Cradled by the crown's spindly, twisting faux-wood skeleton, a high intensity LED gleams brilliantly from behind a striking translucent lattice. Broken by the asymmetrical framework of the lattice, the vivid white light scatters into beaming, multidirectional rays – glinting and sparkling as the staff is turned. The light reciprocates by bathing the crystalline lattice in a warm golden glow. Activated by a hidden button, the 100-lumen LED boasts a 50,000-hour lifespan and shines for an impressive 20 hours on just a pair of AA batteries (not included).

Glamdring™, The Sword of Gandalf™ the Grey

Glamdring™ represents Elven swordcraft at its height – a weapon truly befitting an Elvenking. Long lost in a troll hoard, the Wizard Gandalf™ recovered this ancient sword and claimed it as his own. He wielded Glamdring™ throughout the Quest of Erebor, using it against the Goblins of the Misty Mountains. It remained his primary weapon until the end of his days in Middle-earth. The name Glamdring™ means "foe-hammer" in the age-old Elvish tongue and engraved into the cross guard are ancient Elvish runes that translate to "Turgon, King of Gondolin, wields, has, and holds the sword Glamdring, Foe of Morgoth's realm, Hammer of the Orcs."

Museum Collection Anduril™ Sword

Anduril, the sword of King Elessar of Gondor from the Lord of the Rings Trilogy, has been improved to be a more movie accurate replica of the hero props used in the popular film. This Museum Collection edition of Anduril features a 1060 high carbon steel blade with several improvements over our standard version of the sword that more accurately replicate the hero filming props. The surface polish is finer, the engraved blade runes are more accurately shaped and detailed, and the fuller grooves are now the correct length. Each sword is individually serial numbered on the blade and includes a certificate of authenticity. A 14 1/8" wooden wall display offers an intricately detailed gold-plated metal crest and gold-plated sword mounting arms, and also includes a Gondorian themed blue cloth banner to be hung behind the display. The display and banner feature the ancient heraldry of the Kingdom of Gondor: a flowering white tree of Gondor, the seven stars of Elendil, and a winged crown above them, the symbol of the king. The Museum Collection Anduril is considered the ultimate piece of the United Cutlery Museum Collection to most Lord of the Ring collectors. Pre-order yours today to ensure you're first in line for this long-awaited treasure.
